Action for Change are seeking to recruit a Trainer for it's 'Making Every Contact Count' training programme.

Making Every Contact Count (MECC) is a public health behaviour change programme aimed at equipping staff in a range of jobs to encourage their clients to improve health behaviours such as smoking, weight, alcohol consumption, exercise. The programme has recently received the support of the Secretary of State for Health.

We have secured three years funding to deliver this training to third sector staff in East Sussex.

The successful candidate will be an experienced and competent trainer who has the skills and personality to deliver this innovative training programme across East Sussex. You will be able to market and evaluate your training, as well as deliver it.
