New Attendees:
No Evaluation Forms completed: 4 - this indicates that if people are given choice, they only use one method not both as there was more participation in A3 sheet.	Learning from evaluations: A3 Overall We suggest taking the questions out of form and putting them on A3 sheet with sticky dots. The location and accessibility in Linklater are good but not excellent, car parking expensive and location a little difficult to find if you don't know it. The lunch was excellent, and the time of day worked for most people. We may need to ask people to book for lunch as there was a lot of people who left without.
Main themes of discussion from the event:
Themes: Community Mental Health – presentations from Health in Mind and Southdown as new community mental health provider. Confidence building course for volunteers- Children's centre suggested their course can be open to everyone even if they ultimately choose to volunteer elsewhere, South downs community college also looking at it as possible course. Other issue we would like to feedback is general dismay at label 'Golden Ticket' implies dementia service users lucky to get a service. Need for interpreting /translation services for people with English as a second language.. eg Syrians arriving Actions: Need for Gateway map on mental health services – who they are for and how they are referred to. Rachael is leading on trying to get this done. Message to Southdown, don't make lots of changes, keep name Summerhays and 47A
Idea of uploading written leaflets to ESCIS to ensure most up to date are accessible
